

NEWNHAM COLLEGE
CAMBRIDGE

RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP IN THE ARTS, HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES 2023

Applications are invited from outstanding women graduates of any university, whose doctoral degrees are complete or very near completion, for a stipendiary or non-stipendiary Research Fellowship in the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences. The Research Fellowship may be held on a stipendiary or non-stipendiary basis, and it is possible to move from one basis to the other during the Fellowship period.

This year applications are sought from graduates working in a field covered by one of the following Faculties of the University of Cambridge: Architecture, Asian & Middle Eastern Studies, Divinity, History, History of Art. Newnham research students in the whole field of the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences are eligible for this Research Fellowship, regardless of the rotational listing. Applications are particularly welcomed from those who identify as from Black, Asian or other minority ethnic groups.

APPLICATION INFORMATION

1. There is no age limit, but the Research Fellowship is intended to support women with high potential, at an early stage of their academic careers, and will normally be awarded to those who have recently submitted or are very near to submitting their PhD or who have no more than a few years of full-time postdoctoral research experience, and who will expect to go on to hold posts in institutions of international standing. Applicants who have taken time out of research for professional or family reasons will not be at a disadvantage.
2. The Fellowship is open to women of any nationality, but where a candidate is appointed who requires a visa in order to work in the UK, the appointment will be conditional upon the candidate successfully obtaining the necessary visa.
3. The Fellowship is tenable for three years with effect from 1 October 2023 and is not renewable or extendable. In exceptional circumstances the College, at its absolute discretion, will consider an application to start a Fellowship earlier or later than 1 October (with consequent adjustment of the end date) if a good reason can be shown for so doing.
4. Research Fellows have freedom to develop their own research but often choose to work within a department of the University of Cambridge (or in an associated local Research Institute), where they would usually be welcomed by a named individual; candidates should make such arrangements themselves. We will request the department to confirm the arrangements in a letter of support.
5. Stipends, for those without financial support from other sources, are currently:
 - i) for post-PhD Research Fellows: Point 41 on the University Scale (currently £34,308 for 2022-23)
 - ii) for pre-PhD Research Fellows: Point 37 on the University Scale (currently £30,502 for 2022-23)

The stipends are on a three-point scale and rise each year to the next point on that scale.

Stipendiary Research Fellows are eligible to join the Universities Superannuation Scheme.

If the salary of a non-stipendiary Fellow falls below that of a stipendiary Fellow, the College will underwrite the difference for the full three-year period of the Fellowship.

Stipends will be adjusted for Research Fellows who have financial support from other sources.

6. Research Fellows are expected to be resident in Cambridge during Full Term, unless (with leave from the Council) they are undertaking fieldwork or other work away from Cambridge.
 - Research Fellows, stipendiary or non-stipendiary, can apply to rent College accommodation, if available.
 - Research Fellows, stipendiary or non-stipendiary, who live in College accommodation, are entitled to free meals. Such meals are available only when the College kitchens are open, and do not include the Iris Café. Research Fellows who do not live in College accommodation are entitled to 7 free meals per week.
 - Research Fellows, stipendiary or non-stipendiary, may apply to the Senior Members' Research Support committee for additional support towards certain research, or conference expenses.
 - Research Fellows, stipendiary or non-stipendiary, are entitled to an allowance of up to £1500 for the provision of IT-related equipment, to be claimed within six months of appointment.
 - Research Fellows, stipendiary or non-stipendiary, are entitled to the free use of, or share in the use of, a study in College.
 - Research Fellows, stipendiary or non-stipendiary, are eligible for assistance with childcare costs.
7. An award of £10,000 will be made available to each Research Fellow during the tenure of their Fellowship to host an approved "event" or series of "events" (e.g. conference, seminar) to promote their research.
8. Research Fellows are not required to teach but, if they so wish, they are permitted to undertake up to 6 hours a week of teaching (in the form of individual or group supervisions arranged by the Cambridge Colleges) during Full Term. They are expected to offer the College first refusal of any College teaching they choose to do; remuneration for teaching for the College is at standard supervision rates and is in addition to the stipend.
9. Applications should be made on-line at: https://app.casc.cam.ac.uk/fas_live/hum_newn.aspx no later than 23:59 UK local time on Friday 30 September 2022.
The application will comprise:
 1. A system-generated application form to be completed on-line
 2. A CV
 3. A research statement of no more than 1,000 words in all, outlining the work the candidate would wish to submit in support of her application (see 11 below) and the research she proposes to do if elected. It should also include an assurance that, where necessary, appropriate research arrangements with a Cambridge Department or local research institute have been made. This statement should be intelligible to those working in other but related fields in the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences. This Fellowship does not normally support the conversion of a PhD dissertation into a book.
 4. The names and addresses (postal and email) of two referees familiar with the candidate's work.(NB - Items 2 & 3 must be uploaded to the on-line application system as pdf documents)
10. Once the candidate has completed their on-line application an email will be sent to each referee specified. Candidates should inform their referees that they will be unable to submit their references until this email has been received, and that both references MUST be submitted by 23:59 UK local time on Friday 7 October 2022 or they will be too late for consideration. Referees will be expected to address the candidate's suitability for this appointment. Generic dossier references are not acceptable. Candidates should make sure that their referees are aware that this post is the equivalent of a junior Faculty position; they will be disadvantaged in this competition if their referees do not address their suitability for a post at this level. Applications with fewer than two submitted references will not be considered.
11. Selected candidates will be invited to submit written work to support their application. This written work should be at most two items, and no single item should normally be over 12,000 words (including citations). This work should be in English and may consist, for example, of published articles or articles accepted for publication, and/or selected chapters from a PhD dissertation. Any work not evidently self-contained (e.g., a dissertation chapter) should include a brief note setting it in context. Candidates will receive a request for this work by Friday 4 November 2022, and the closing date for submissions will be Friday 11 November 2022. This work should be submitted online as a single pdf document.

12. It is expected that short-listed candidates will be interviewed during week commencing 9 January 2023.
13. Newnham College aims to attract, recruit, retain and develop talent from the widest possible talent pool. We positively encourage applications from suitably qualified and eligible candidates, regardless of race, disability, age, sexual orientation, religion or belief, marital status, or pregnancy and maternity status.
14. These appointments comply with legislation on sex discrimination, relying on the Equality Act 2010, Schedule 22, and Article 3 of the College Charter. Newnham College admits only those who are formally recognised as female and are identified as such on a current passport, driving licence, birth certificate or gender recognition certificate. This means women graduates, including transwomen graduates, and Assigned Female At Birth non-binary graduates are eligible to apply for Newnham's Research Fellowships.
15. The data supplied by you and your referees is used by us in the first instance solely for the purposes of considering your suitability for appointment and for us to manage our recruitment processes, including our monitoring of equality and diversity within the College. The legal basis for processing your personal data is that it is necessary in order for you to enter into an employment contract with us, where you will be subject to the College's governing documents. If you are successful in your application, your data will be held as part of your employment record with us. If you are unsuccessful in your application, we retain all data and information for no more than twelve months after the closing date of the application process, though the names of those who apply for College Fellowships may be retained permanently.
 - The College's full Privacy Notice for job applicants and candidates for election to College memberships may be accessed via <https://www.newn.cam.ac.uk/about/governance-documents/>.
 - The person who is responsible for monitoring compliance with relevant legislation in relation to the protection of personal information is the Bursar, data-protection@newn.cam.ac.uk , and any queries relating to the management of your personal data should be directed to the Bursar in the first instance.
